Shop that week. This is the first one held under the direction of the new executive secretary, Frank Hughes, and the new faculty, Frank G. Yancy. They, and their GEA directors and staff, are making it interesting by carrying "electric things in GEA plans and programs for next year."

LOCAL FARMERS OBTAIN LOANS

Home Administration
Agency Lends Helping Hand To Farmers

Farmers in Bulloch County obtained loans totaling $117,765.80 through the Farmers Home Administration during the year ending June 30, 1956. County Supervisor Marshall R. Thielen advised that the loans were made through the Farmers Home Administration.

Repayments on all loans outstanding during the period totaled $238,779.76.

The Farmers Home Administration has advanced credit to buy feed, seed, fertilizer, equipment, livestock and other farm operating items needed to place farms on an efficient operating basis, and to buy and improve family type farms. Funds were also advanced for soil and water conservation purposes which included the drilling of wells, construction of farm ponds and purchase of irrigation equipment.

The Bulloch County FHA Committee, consisting of W. C. Hodges, Robert A. Wynn and Leona Dekle, approves each loan application before funds can be advanced. This committee determines all loan applicants' eligibility and certifies the value of farms to be purchased or improved. They also make recommendations on loan applications and servicing actions.

Mr. Thielen further advised that Bulloch County farmers who are in need of Farmers Home Administration assistance now available, may obtain applications or information at the office at T. C. Main Street, Statesboro. He also will address the general assembly on the subject, "Ten Centers Which Meet Today's Needs."

During the course of the workshop he will serve as a counselor and will conduct various sessions on Ten Planning. Mr. Lockwood will use vacation time to act as the workshop. His participation has been approved by the Statesboro Recreation Board.

Mr. Lockwood will serve as a special consultant on Teenage Problems and will address the general assembly on the subject, "Ten Centers Which Meet Today's Needs."

A Senate Committee has added its approval to that of the House on a bill which would require an insurance policy held by a serviceman to be in effect six months prior to induction before the government would take up the premium payments.

In discussing the recent action, Pete Wheeler, Director of the State Department of Veterans Service, said that the present law guarantees government payments of premiums on commercial insurance held by a serviceman as long as the policy was purchased at least 30 days before entry into the Armed Forces. Wheeler stated that under this law "investigation has revealed many abuses, and the bill now pending will halt such abuses."

Wheeler said that some insurance agents were obtaining lists of men about to be drafted, the agents then contacted the prospective draftees and attempted to sell them insurance, explaining that the government would pick up the tab on all policies up to $10,000 after the man entered the service. However, the agents would neglect to tell the prospective buyers that the money would have to be repaid and almost invariably, the chief loser in the deal is the serviceman. The government collects the cash value on the policies by attaching the veterans GI payments, such as insurance dividends or compensation.

By extending the length of time the policy must have been in effect prior to induction from 30 days to six months, the abuses will probably be eliminated, Wheeler pointed out. He said that the government will make it virtually impossible for agents to obtain the names of prospective draftees in time to sell them insurance eligible for government guaranteed premiums.

G. Elliott Hagan
Opens Campaign

G. Elliott Hagan, Scriven County farmer-businessman, will officially open his campaign for Representative from the First District to the United States Congress at a barbecue August 4th in Sylvania.

The event has been set for 3:00 p.m. in the afternoon at the Sylvania Baseball Park.

A special invitation for residents of Bulloch County to attend the District-wide rally and barbecue has been issued by a group of Scriven County citizens headed by State Representative W. Colbert Hawkins and Mayor Willard H. Larisey.

Hagan's opening address is expected around 4:00 o'clock following opening ceremonies.

Preston said that, "Such a law as that which is proposed is not just needless. It is wicked and dangerous."

Preston quoted the French poet Lamartine's lament, "Oh, Liberty, Liberty! What crimes are committed in thy name." He said future historians may describe this era by saying, "Oh, Civil Rights, Civil Rights! What crimes are committed in thy name." He urged the House to reject overwhelming the Civil Rights bill which he described as "repugnant in every detail."

CIVIL RIGHTS BILL ATTACK

Congressman Preston
Declares Law Is Wicked, Dangerous

The Civil Rights bill now before the House "effectively destroys the sovereignty of the several states," Congressman Price Preston said today on the floor of the House in denouncing the proposed legislation.

Likening the powers granted the federal government by this bill to those of a police state, Preston said, "Here in the halls of this Congress we are considering the enactment of a law that would oppress our citizens in a way that strongly suggests the dictatorship we profess to despise."

Preston said that, "Such a law as that which is proposed is not just needless. It is wicked and dangerous."

SCHOOL SURVEY OF NEGRO BLDGS.

Summary Of General
Recommendations For
Grades 1-12 In County

(Editor's note: This is the fifth in a series on the study and survey made of Bulloch County schools by a group of state educators. This week we report the general recommendations made to provide complete and adequate housing for the Negro population in grades 1-12 in Bulloch County.)

These recommendations are:

1. Construct no additional facilities at the four elementary schools outside the Statesboro area, except at Willow Hill where it is recommended that an expenditure of about $500 be made to subdivide the library by cutting a door and building a wall, and an additional classroom be provided at Brooklet by partitioning off a portion of the building.

2. Utilize to maximum capacity the facilities at the four elementary centers outside the Statesboro area even if it means retaining the 8th grade at one or more centers.

3. Designate the original William James School as a Class D. Center. This means that only a minimum amount should be expended at this center on heating, plumbing, wiring, shifting of partitions and maintenance to make it usable for a maximum of five years.

4. Make long range plans to provide in new construction contained primary rooms as an addition to the new William James Center for the pupils being provided for on an immediate basis at the original William James Center.

5. Secure at the earliest time possible additional acreage at the new William James Center to provide needed space for additional facilities, play and parking areas.

6. Provide a combination auditorium-physical education building, architecturally designed according to well developed educational specifications to complete the plant for a modern high school program at the new William James Center.

Next in the series will be the recommendations for the separate units of the county school system. The County Board of Education wished it understood that the board accepted the recommendations as a guide. If any school is now meeting the needs of the community that school would be permitted to operate until the problems in the community thought it wise to suspend operations.
